

Finding the right home isn't easy. Every time we move,
our kids still find us.

We're done. We've paid our dues, done our job. From diapers to wedding bouquets, we were there. Now, it's time for us. We're going to pamper ourselves. Surround ourselves with hardwood floors and a designer kitchen that no one will spill in. We can read on our oversized balcony or stroll through the neighborhood to gourmet food and coffee, shopping, theatre and music. The new Wing Street Residences at Village Green. This is our time and this is our place. (Note to concierge—don't let kids up without specific permission).
